PREFACE

Chaudhary Devi Lal University, Sirsa, named after Jan Nayak (Late) Chaudhary Devi Lal, former Deputy Prime Minister of India, has been established by Government of Haryana by an Act of the Legislature in the year 2003. The University, located at Sirsa and at a distance of 256 KM from Delhi and 285 KM from Chandigarh. The National Highway No. 9 (Delhi-Fazilka) and the Rewari-Bathinda section of North Western Railway pass through the Sirsa town. A squadron headquarter of Indian Air Force with an airport, is also situated the vicinity of the town. Though a district headquarter of Haryana, the Sirsa district adjoins both Punjab and Rajasthan and has a great potential for developing into a centre of academic excellence.

The University has a sprawling campus having five hostels, two for boys and three for girls. Three Girls Hostels are Harkhi Devi Bhawan (GH-I), Kalpana Chawla Bhawan (GH-II) & Savitri Bai Phule Bhawan (GH-III) and Boys Hostels are Lajpat Rai Bhawan (BH-I) and Sardar Patel Bhawan (BH-II). All the hostels are under the overall supervision of the Chief Warden, who is assisted by the team of Wardens. The students of the University Teaching Departments are admitted in the university hostels according to the rules.

Apart from a large number of national and regional newspapers, magazines and periodicals, common rooms of all the hostels are equipped with indoor games and LCD TV facility for recreation of the hostels' residents. To encourage sports activities among the residents, intra-hostel games like, badminton, table tennis and other indoor games are being organized. Also, Annual Cultural Programmes are organized by the University in girl hostels and boy hostels separately.
